

Royal College of General Practitioners

Your health matters – your vote matters

A General Election will be held on June 8th.

Are you and your relatives registered to vote?

Will you or anyone in your household need a postal vote or need to send someone else to vote on your behalf?

How to register to vote

- Everyone in your household needs to register to vote individually
- Visit www.gov.uk/register-to-vote in England, Scotland and Wales or www.eoni.org.uk in Northern Ireland
- You will need your National Insurance number
- No internet access? You will need to contact your local authority in Scotland, Wales and England or Area Electoral Office in Northern Ireland.
- The deadline for registering to vote is 22nd May

The Royal College of General Practitioners is working hard to #putpatientsfirst

We are asking political parties to prioritise general practice so you and your family get the care that you deserve.

You can read our manifestos in full or get involved at www.rcgp.org.uk/campaign

