the GP Society Partnership Network

Society Partnership Network

What is the network?

The RCGP is committed to inspiring tomorrow's GPs and future leaders of the profession. We want to attract, engage and educate our future workforce by providing vibrant and engaging opportunities to experience general practice throughout your time at medical school.

Our own research has found that peer-to-peer engagement has a profound impact on the experience and perception of medical students towards general practice.

The Society Partnership Network provides official recognition, greater resource, and guidance to UK GP societies to help support and empower you to be our biggest advocates within the medical student community and your own localities.

"We found being affiliated with the RCGP really helpful and inspiring - and we've met lots of new role models"
- Sally (Former President, Lancaster GP Society)

Discover GP & Member Summit

The Discover GP & Member Summit brings together GP Societies from all over the UK and ROI to share ideas, celebrate successes, and elevate your societies. The day includes training and networking opportunities. Plus you'll get the chance to build relationships with the wider RCGP family, including local faculties, Community Group leads, and leaders of the profession.

At least two members of each affiliated GP Soc must attend this key event.

Your #TeamGP family

#TeamGP is a vast, interconnected support network so make the most of it by reaching out and building those relationships! A quick who's who...

Your local faculty lead the GP agenda in your region, offering support, awards and more opportunities to shape the future of general practice. Find yours at rcgp.org.uk/faculties

Your medical school Head of GP Teaching can offer vital support in representing your needs within the medical school, so make sure to engage with them from day one.

Near-peers like FYs and GP trainees can help support your Soc's development and give you insights into your next steps. Consider having an FY rep on your committee to enhance your connections and ask your local faculty for help in reaching out through local networks.

Your local GPs and GP practices can offer exciting opportunities to learn more about the wonderful world of GP; from audit schemes to speaking at events.
