

Women Foundation Members and Associates

The doctors who joined the new College in 1952 and 1953 were known as Foundation Members and Foundation Associates.

Foundation Members had to join before the College's first Annual General Meeting on 14 November 1953, and:

- be on the Medical Register
- have worked for twenty years in general practice or as a general medical officer; or five years in general practice and undertake to carry out postgraduate study each year; or five years in general practice and possess a higher postgraduate degree or diploma.

Foundation Associateship was intended to encourage younger doctors to devote their careers to general practice. By the College's first Annual General Meeting on 14 November 1953, 142 doctors who were ineligible to be full Foundation Members had joined as Associates. As well as general practitioners who wanted to progress to full membership, there were also a number who worked in other disciplines but wanted to support the new College.

Over 2000 doctors joined the College in its first year, but only around 140 seem to have been women. The earliest membership listings include many people identified only by initials and so some may yet lie hidden. If you believe someone is missing, we'd love to hear from you.

To compile this list, each woman has been cross-referenced with the census and medical directories to confirm her identity and any obvious links with other members including husbands. Again, this is not always straightforward as wives did not necessarily use their husband's surnames. Many women seem to have been single-handed GPs, and some women were in practice with other women.

The College would be interested to find out more about these women and welcomes any additional information. Contact: heritage@rcgp.org.uk
